It was issued by District Attorney White on the complaint of Mrs. Terry, who charges Judge Field with complicity in the killing of her husband. It is said the Sheriff will go to San Francisco this afternoon and arrest Justice Field this evening.

Cronin and Anti-Cronin.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, August 15.—The Cronin and anti-Cronin factions of the Clann-Gael held separate picnics to-day, at which games were indulged in and a number of prominent speakers listened to. The former passed a resolution denouncing the murder of Cronin as a conspiracy hatched in Chicago. The latter also denounced the murder and repelled the insinuation that it was the work of members of the Clann-Gael.

The firm is disposed to be very lenient with him.

Enough to Control.

The Baltimore grain dealers complain that little Western grain is now going to that city for shipment to Europe. The recent restoration of wheat rates to a basis of 25 cents per 100 pounds from Chicago to New York gives the lake and canal route to New York such an advantage that grain now goes, it is said, to New York by water, having to a great extent abandoned the railroads. The advantage of the water route over the rail route is said to be at present 1 cent per 100 pounds, which is enough to control.

Peculiarly Gifted.

Preston county, West Virginia, has a young lady who would make a fortune for a dime museum manager. She can write just as well with her left hand as with her right. She has been known to write two letters of different subjects at the same time, one with the left and one with the right hand, and what makes it doubly curious is that the style of writing of the two letters are always different.

High License in Philadelphia.

The friends of high license are gratified with its workings in Philadelphia. The commitments to the county prison for the year ending June 30th were 10,000 fewer than for the previous year.

MEDICAL AUTHORITY.

Roasted Peanuts a Sure Cure for Insomnia.

Dr. T. B. Lyman recently wrote as follows: "I think I have a very valuable discovery. For nearly two years I have been suffering greatly from sleeplessness at night, and frequently have not been able to sleep more than one or two hours during the night. A little more than two weeks ago, while staying at the house of a friend, my hostess brought into the parlor, quite late in the evening, a bountiful supply of freshly roasted peanuts. As I am very fond of them, when they are not too much cooked, I ate quite freely of them, and soon after retired to bed. I found the next morning that I had enjoyed the best sleep that I had experienced for over a month. I attributed this at once to the peanuts, and tried them again the following evening. I also drank a glass of fresh, sweet milk after I had finished the peanuts. That night I slept still better, and, now, for a fortnight, I have partaken of the peanuts and milk every night, and not only have slept remarkably well, but have also fully recovered from a slight attack of indigestion. I now find that peanuts, carefully roasted and eaten, so as to be not at all burnt, are a sure remedy for sleeplessness, and also for that form of indigestion which produces sleeplessness."

HOW TO WORK BUTTER.

Many Butter-Makers Object to Extra Heat of the Hand.

The American Dairyman says: We never could see the sense of working butter with the hands; not that we are willing to enter the crusade against this method of working because it is claimed not to be cleanly. This is a piece of superstitious snobbery. The human hand, reasonably well washed, is as clean as nature recognizes anything to be. It is not the dirt but the heat that all reasonable people object to. Why the butter should be subjected to this extra heat when cool paddles will answer the same purpose we do not see, and yet it was only the other day we watched an expert and modern butter-maker, all the way from intelligent Sweden, working the butter with her hands.

A Heavy Policeman.

Says the Philadelphia Inquirer: "The biggest Policeman in the United States, with one exception, is Lieut. Malin, who is now in charge of the Twenty-first District in West Philadelphia. He is 6 feet 5 in. high, and carries himself with the precision of a veteran. Night or day he is always on the go, and the citizens of his district speak of him with the utmost kindness. He doesn't tell his weight to anybody, but judging from his appearance it must be that of two or three ordinary men. He is a strict disciplinarian and never asks a patrolman to go where he is not willing to lead."

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

Further advices from the wreck near Benson, A. T., published recently, prove beyond doubt that a fiendish attempt was made to wreck the train for the purpose of robbery. Three bolts and seven spikes were removed from the rail. The Southern Pacific Company has offered $1,000 reward for the arrest of the parties concerned. Footprints and horse-tracks were seen leading from the scene of the wreck.

The Brown-Sequard Fraud.

It is reported that a large guinea-pig farm will be started near Pittsburg, Penn., for the purpose of supplying the materials for the manufacture of Dr. Brown-Sequard's famous elixir in this country.

Discovery of Cuban Mines.

Among the latest mines discovered in Cuba are two of mercury, covering a surface of fifty acres, and one of antimony of about one hundred acres. They are not being worked, owing to a lack of capital.

A GENEROUS MAN.

Matt McCabe, of New Brunswick, Ill., offers to pay five dollars to any person troubled with bloody flux, who will take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy according to directions and does not get well in the shortest possible time. One-half of a 25-cent bottle of this remedy cured him of bloody flux, after he had tried other medicines and the prescriptions of physicians without benefit. Mr. McCabe is perfectly safe in making this offer, as more than a thousand bottles of this remedy are sold each day and it has never been known to fail in any case of colic, cholera morbus, dysentery, diarrhoea or bloody flux, when the plain printed directions were followed. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

Epith.

The transition from long, lingering and painful sickness to robust health marks an epoch in the life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health to the use of the Great Alterative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of the Kidneys or Liver or Stomach, of long or short standing, you will surely find relief by the use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50c and $1 per bottle at Hodgkinson's drug store.

Their Stomachs Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of interest in Hodgkinson's drug store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, croup and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free; large size, 5c. Every bottle warranted.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Result of a Recent Murder Trial at Hawthorne.

On Monday at Hawthorne the case of State vs. Von Stephaniza was tried before Judge Rising. Von killed Antonio Lavarino at Pine Grove on the 5th of last July. The men had a quarrel over a game of cards. Antonio called Von a foul epithet, and picked up a tobacco knife and subsequently a hatchet to slash a few pounds of flesh out of Von, but was prevented by Joseph (Carriero). Von then went out, got a revolver, fired a shot, kicked a panel out of the door, fired another shot through the hole made and then retreated to the woodpile. A few minutes later Antonio emerged from the saloon with a double-barrel shotgun and Von fired a third shot and ran behind an outhouse. Antonio pursued him. Von started to go around the house in a certain direction, but suddenly turned to go the other direction, and both men met. Von threw Antonio's up with one hand as it was fired and shot almost simultaneously the ball entering the latter's heart, and both men went down, and then Von shot again, the ball entering the mouth and crashing through the base of the brain, killing him instantly. The case was given to the jury at 8:35 p. m., and at 9 they returned a verdict of manslaughter. Sentence will be passed the latter part of the week.

Attempted Assassination.
 A San Diego dispatch of the 13th inst. reads as follows: This afternoon Judge W. L. Pierce of the Superior Court of this city was shot and seriously injured by W. S. Clendenin.

The judge was talking with ex-Governor Eli H. Murray of Utah, and now editor of the San Diego Union, and Colonel Ensign, when Clendenin passed down the street. He stopped suddenly, and drawing a revolver, shot Judge Pierce in the back. He attempted to fire a second shot, but was prevented by Governor Murray, who in the struggle had a finger mangled. Clendenin was arrested, and strong threats are made of lynching. It is said that the immediate cause of the shooting is the decision rendered this morning by Judge Pierce in the divorce suit of Clendenin against his wife.

Suspected Attempt at Poisoning.
 Mrs. F. Shafer, at Los Angeles, has for ten years past been in the habit of using a harmless remedy composed of liquorice powder, fennel seed, sulphur and senna. On Friday she went to a drug store and got this, and on reaching home took a dose and immediately went into convulsions. Mrs. Kramer, who used to nurse Mrs. Shafer, and her little boy, both took a dose of the mixture and were affected the same way. An investigation exonerated the druggist, but it is suspected that some enemy had introduced poison into the liquorice mixture. Mrs. Shafer and Mrs. Kramer's little boy are on the verge of death.

The Monopoly Defeated.
 A Toledo (Ohio) dispatch of the 7th inst. says: When this city bonded itself for $750,000 to provide natural gas that would knock out the monopoly, the Standard Oil Company declared that it would be impossible to supply any gas territory. The city got some land, however, at Vanburen and drilled a well. Yesterday a gusher has struck which will yield about twenty million feet of gas per day.

A $100 Jump.
 The Carson Tribune says: Walter Boswell, a kinsman, and Clarence Sands, a colored boy of Virginia City, have arranged a jumping match with weights for $100 a side. Boswell was beaten by Sands last Saturday, Sands jumping 11 feet 8 1/4 inches and Boswell 11 feet 7 1/4 inches. Both are practicing for the match.

The News.
 To-day's WEEKLY GAZETTE and STOCKMAN is a paper far ahead of any State weekly, and not expelled by any this side of San Francisco. Besides the regular local, telegraphic, editorial and general news, it contains a full account of the killing of Judge Terry. Price 10 cents; $2 per year.

Off for Pyramid Lake.
 This morning W. E. Gould and sister Onie, Miss Unruh, R. W. Parry and wife, John Hyman and two daughters and Miss Sarah Higgins left on a fishing trip to Pyramid Lake, expecting to be gone about a week.

Smashed a Train.
 While doing switching at Towle's switch yesterday a west-bound freight train was badly smashed up by the rear end dropping down the hill and running into the front part. All trains were delayed and Reno got no fruit this morning.

Hard Aground.
 The Pacific Coast Steamship Company's steamer Umattilla ran aground last Tuesday morning at Brown's Point, opposite Tacoma, just as the tide had turned, under a full head of steam.

The Congressional Irrigation Committee are expected to arrive in Carson on the 20th inst.

Eight cars of beef cattle, shipped at Carlin by W. Dunphy, were unloaded here last evening to go east.

Mrs. J. T. Reed is going East and wants to sell her household furniture and two Jersey cows—see 50-cent ad.

A later report of the Buffalo race in which Sensation trotted shows that the Reno horse was third instead of second, as heretofore reported.

A late report through Frank Lee shows that Dick Jose of Dockstadter's minstrels continues to sustain his well-earned reputation as a ballad singer.

Congressman Bartine, who returned from the East last evening, where he has been for the past six months, is of the opinion that there will be no special session of Congress.

CREATED A SENSATION.
 How the Wife of Ex-Secretary Belknap Continues to Attract Attention.

A special to the Chicago Tribune of the 7th inst. reads as follows: During General Grant's Administration no one attracted more attention in the gay official society of Washington than Mrs. William Belknap, the wife of the then Secretary of War, whose speculations in the sale of sutler's privileges caused the removal of her husband and from that high office. Mrs. Belknap was a tall, striking brunette, with a superb presence, a handsome face and a dashing manner. She also possessed an inordinate desire for admiration. This last not unusual feminine characteristic led her to affect certain peculiarities of dress that at that time caused considerable talk.

July 15 last the clerk at the Oriental Hotel, Carson Island, was shaken out of the dreamy contemplation of his two carat diamond shirt pin by the news that upon that evening's train from New York Mrs. William Belknap, daughter and maid would arrive and that the best rooms in the house were to be placed at their disposal. From that day to this Mrs. Belknap has been summering at the Oriental, and, notwithstanding the presence there of Tom Platt, she has held her own as one of the leading features of the place. In the morning between the hours of 10 and 11 Mrs. Belknap regains supreme. At this hour she takes her bath in the silver surf. It is not so much the way Mrs. Belknap bathes that interests these idlers of a summer's day, but it is the clothes she bathes in. Until Saturday last the wife of the ex-Secretary had worn at the bath a startling costume of white and red. It was a striped affair, showing her form in all its graceful curves—a little, low necked, sleeveless bodice and short skirt were all that it consisted of. The costume was completed by silk tights. The effect was startling as she dashed through the waves, throwing herself upon their crests with all the wild abandon of a water nymph.

The ladies who saw Mrs. Belknap disporting herself in the waves did not, however, seem much to admire her costume as did the men. Being a woman of energy and great courage, Mrs. Belknap has continued to bathe in her wonderful striped costume with the abbreviated skirt and the still more abbreviated bodice. She made up her mind that she wouldn't let the gossip gain a victory over her, and she almost won the fight, but Mrs. Belknap's daughter, who is a beautiful and accomplished girl, didn't relish the notoriety which her mother was attaining, and persuaded her to throw aside the objectionable bathing suit and wear one less conspicuous.

The haughty blue-grass beauty didn't like to give in, but she at last consented to yield to her daughter's wishes, and appeared to-day in a dark blue costume of the usual seaside style.

Lost Their Homes.
 A decision in the case of Harrison vs. Ulrich et al., in favor of the plaintiff, was rendered at Los Angeles last Monday by Justice Field, the decision being also signed by Judge Sawyer. This involves a title to 13,723 acres of the ranch Las Bolsas, near Santa Ana, and deprives over one hundred and fifty squatter settlers of their lands. The case has been in litigation for ten years or more.

First-Class Fruit Only.
 The following explains itself: NEWCASTLE, Cal., August 14, 1889. Mr. O. Hartung, Reno, Nev.—

DEAR SIR: I note what you say in regard to the nice peaches sent you. I have always endeavored to send you first-class quality and I think you will find these so to-day, especially the McDevitts to be very fine. Yours truly, Geo. D. KILLOGG.

Saved the Price in Gloves.
 We—I am so grateful, dear George, for the gift of this beautiful ring; but ain't you too extravagant?
 Husband—No. The ring cost only $300 and I'll get the money back in a short time.
 In what way?
 You'll not need so many pairs of kid gloves hereafter.

Poor Health the Cause.
 Charles A. Fischer, a traveling salesman for Kohler & Frohling, wine merchants of San Francisco, committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver, at the McDormott Hotel in Butte, M. T., Monday night. He was a member of Bay City Lodge, No. 166, F. and A. M., San Francisco. Poor health is the reason given for the act.

Strong Evidence of Guilt.
 The evidence is more than sufficient in the case of Walter D. Barlenagame, the defaulting Treasurer of Socorro county, N. M., to hold him for trial. His chances for the Penitentiary are thought to be sure.

The Time to Raise the Curtain.

A New York paper says: "Out West," says a theatrical manager who has just brought his company in, "they don't always do things in New York style. We played at a little theater in Salem, Or., two weeks ago, and when I asked an old man with long whiskers, who was sort of general factotum about the theater, what time they usually rung up the curtain, he said, shifting a quid of tobacco in his mouth, 'Wal, we don't have no regular time; we get it when the folks begin to snore.' So we waited till our audience got there and 'stomped,' which was about 9 o'clock."

WANTS THE NEWS.

Several Times an Editor Would Like to Know for Publication.

An Eastern exchange says: Don't forget the editor when you have a news item. If your wife whips you, let us know of it and we will set you right before the public. If you have company, tell us—if you are not ashamed of your visitors. If a youngster arrives at your house and demands food and raiment, buy a quarter's worth of cigars and come around, and if you are a cash subscriber we will furnish a name for him or her, as circumstances warrant. If you have a social gathering of a few friends, bring around a big cake, six or seven pies and a ham—not necessarily to eat, but as a guarantee of good faith. You needn't bother to invite us, as it may be a little too cool for our wardrobe. We mention the little things because we want the news, and we will have it.

AN UGLY DISCOVERY.

A Report That Should Be Read. "A recent analysis in Philadelphia by a celebrated chemist of ten popular brands of sarsaparilla discloses the astonishing fact that these ten samples of blood purifiers (7 contained in the aggregate sixteen different minerals, eleven of which were active poisons. Twelve of poison was discovered in every sample, mercury was found in all but two, while arsenic existed in six of the ten brands. Not one brand was the pure article."

A reporter took the above article to E. W. Joy, the manufacturer of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. Mr. Joy exhibited no surprise. He said druggists knew it. He said he long ago saw the crying need for a safe and absolutely pure vegetable preparation of Sarsaparilla, hence he was named Joy's vegetable sarsaparilla, because it contained nothing but pure Sarsaparilla, combined with the purest of California's vegetable alternatives. Unlike potash sarsaparilla, it does not force impurities through the skin but stimulates the various secretory organs, thereby correcting humoral derangements and stimulating all impurities through the natural channels—San Francisco Examiner.

Advantages of Low Ceilings.
Rooms with low ceilings, or with ceilings even with the window-top, says the "Popular Science Monthly," are more readily and completely ventilated than those with high ceilings. The leakage of air which is always going on keeps all parts of the air in motion in such rooms; whereas, if the ceiling is higher, only the lower part of the air is moved and an inverted lake of foul and hot air is left floating in the space above the window tops. To have the currents of fresh air circulating only in the lower parts of the room, while the upper portion of the air is left unaffected, is really the worst way of ventilating, for the stagnant atmospheric lake under the ceiling—although motionless—keeps actively at work under the law of diffusion of gases, fouling the fresh currents circulating beneath it. With low ceilings and high windows no such accumulation of air is possible, for the whole height of the room is swept by the currents, as the dust of the floor is swept with a broom. Low ceilings have also the advantage of enabling the room to be warmed with less expenditure of heat and less cost of fuel. The above does not agree with the generally accepted idea of the height of rooms in dwellings, but the authority is good and well worthy of consideration by persons about to build.

Electricity and Root Growing.
An interesting experiment showing the influence of electricity on the growth of roots has been made in Germany by Professor Holdelless. Plates of copper were thrust upright into the earth and connected by wires with similarly placed zinc plates about one hundred feet distant—an electric battery being thus formed, with the earth between the copper and zinc in the circuit. It is stated that potatoes and beets planted between such plates gave an increased yield—beets fifteen per cent.—as compared with other parts of the same field.

Back to Business.
Dry Goods Clerk (to young woman customer)—Ah! I believe I had the pleasure of meeting you at a garden party at the Grand Union, Saratoga, last summer.
Young Woman—Will these goods wash, sir?
Clerk—Yes, madam.

The Bulletin is the leading evening journal in circulation and influence on the Pacific coast. It is distinguished for the brilliancy of its editorial matter, accuracy and completeness of its local news, reviews of current literature and art, and extent of foreign news, while it is the recognized authority in all financial and trade circles. The Daily Bulletin is the only newspaper in California that publishes in extension the decisions of the Supreme Court.

Owing to the difference in time between San Francisco and the principal news centers in the East, the world's news of each day is furnished by the Bulletin 12 hours in advance of the morning papers.

The Weekly Bulletin is a handsome 12 page, 16 column paper, issued every Wednesday morning—the largest and best weekly published in the West. It furnishes the latest and most reliable financial news and market quotations, and gives special attention to agricultural and horticultural news, and is in every respect a first-class family paper, appealing to the interest of every member of the household. The Semi-Weekly Bulletin is the regular Weekly Bulletin and Friday's issue of each week.

Mushroom Culture in England.

Mushroom growing has greatly increased in England during the last three years, chiefly owing to the publication, in 1883, of a little book, "Mushrooms for the Million," by Mr. J. Wright. In a supplement to the fourth edition of this valuable book the author states that a farmer in the Midlands, acting on the instructions given, sold in 1885 mushrooms to the value of $500, and so, for the first time during years of depression, was able to show a balance on the right side of his farming accounts. There is no doubt as to the great profitability of mushroom cultivation when it is properly managed. Colonel Gascoigne, of Parlington hall, near Leeds, obtained a profit of £64 2s. 10d. from 164 yards of mushroom beds, although forty-two yards failed entirely through a mistake in management. It is estimated that the quantity of mushrooms marketed in England has doubled since 1883. Still, large and increasing quantities are imported from France, in spite of the fact that English mushrooms are greatly superior to French. Price has fallen by about 15 per cent. during the last three years, owing to the increased supplies, but they are still highly remunerative to successful growers. The consumption would be larger than it is if retail prices were reasonable. It is complained that greengrocers, often charge 1s. 6d. per pound, or more, when the wholesale price is 10d. The injurious effects which sometimes follow the eating of mushrooms are generally owing to staleness, putrefaction having commenced, and it is important to buyers to bear in mind the fact that when the pink color of the gills of a fresh fungus has changed to black it is very stale. When only brown it is not too stale to be eaten with safety.

Hardiness of French Women.

I have been especially struck by the hardness of the French woman and the strength of her constitution. Unless she belongs to the idle and luxurious class of French women, she will get through an extraordinary amount of work in a day, eat and drink very sparingly, go about in the depth of winter with scarcely any more clothing upon her than in summer, rush from highly heated rooms into a freezing air and do all manner of imprudent things and apparently get no harm by it. In French schools it frequently happens that English girls fall seriously ill in winter because they try to do all that their French companions do and their constitutions are not equal to the strain. The French woman is endowed by nature with almost inexhaustible energy and a resisting power which admirably fit her for the battle of life. When she is thrown upon her own resources it rarely happens that she does not make a living somehow. She has what she calls "nervous attacks," through over excitement, but it is very seldom that she falls into the low melancholy state that invariably goes with inactivity. The Frenchman, it may be explained, has nothing like the "grit" in him that the Frenchwoman possesses. He is much more given to self-indulgence, and maybe this is the whole explanation.

The leakage of air which is always going on keeps all parts of the air in motion in such rooms; whereas, if the ceiling is higher, only the lower part of the air is moved and an inverted lake of foul and hot air is left floating in the space above the window tops. Back to Business.

Dry Goods Clerk (to young woman customer)—Ah! I believe I had the pleasure of meeting you at a garden party at the Grand Union, Saratoga, last summer.
Young Woman—Will these goods wash, sir?
Clerk—Yes, madam.

HE HAD OUT-TRAVELED HIM.

A traveler called very late for breakfast at a hotel kept by Dr. Thompson, of Atlanta, Ga., and who was a celebrated joker. The meal was hurriedly prepared and Thompson, feeling that the feed was not quite up to the mark, made all sorts of apologies all around the eater, who worked on in silence, never raising his head beyond the affirmative influence of his fork or by an act acknowledging even the presence of nine host.

This sulky demeanor rather annoyed the doctor, who, changing the range of his battery, stuck his thumbs in his vest arm holes, expanded his chest by robbing the room of half its air and said:

"Now, mister, darn me if I hain't made all the apology necessary, an' more too, considering the breakfast and who gets it; and now I tell you I have seen dirtier, worse cooked, worse tasted, worse looking and a darn sight smaller breakfast than this is several times."

The weary hungry one meekly laid down his tools, swallowed the bite in transit, placed the palms of his hands together and modestly looking up at the vexed and fuming landlord shot him dead with the following words:

"Is—what—you—say—true?"

"Yes, sir," came with vindictive promptness.

"Well, then, I'll be—d—d, old man, if you hain't out-traveled me!"

SHE WENT AND GOT MARRIED.

In recently making the trip in a stage-coach over the rugged range of hills called the "Baraboo Bluffs," between the towns of Lodi and Baraboo, in Wisconsin, the coachful of snoozed and jolted passengers found some relief from the tediousness of the journey in the original remarks which, from time to time, fell from the lips of an elderly woman who was one of the company. She persisted in expressing great contempt for the other sex, and for married life generally, and intimated that such had always been her opinion; and as it had previously leaked out from her conversation that she had been married and had raised a large family of children, I ventured to ask her how it happened that with the feelings of contempt she had from the first felt for the men she ever could have married one of them.

"Wa'al," said she, "young man, I'll tell you jest how it 'twas. When I was a little gal I lived in a family where there was an old maid, who, in going up stairs to bed, had to go through an entry way where there was a pile of potatoes in one corner, and she used to make me go and cover 'em up with a blanket before she went by 'em, for fear they'd see, 'cause they had eyes. Wa'al, thinks I, if old maids is like that, I won't be one nohow. So you see, as soon as I got old enough, like a fool, I went and got married."

STRONG ENOUGH FOR THAT WORK.

A Newport, Ky., man was sent by his wife to see a girl who advertised for a place in a respectable family. When he arrived at her house the following conversation took place:

"I call in reply to your advertisement wanting a place. Do you still want one?"

"Yes, sir, if I kin git the right kind of a place. How large a family have you?"

"Only myself and wife."

"Well, I wouldn't do all kinds of work. Is your wife healthy? I won't wash nor iron nor cook. I couldn't think of doing such work as that. What kind of work does your wife want me to do? You see I'm not very strong."

He, catching on to the drift of her remarks—"Well, of course, in getting a girl she doesn't want one that will work, but one who can boss her aunt. Do you think you are strong enough for that?"

"Yes, sir; I presume so."

"Well, I'll send a dray after you, Good-day."

Cholera in Michigan.

Dr. F. D. Larks, of Rogers City, Michigan, says the epidemic of last year in Presque Isle county, in which so many persons lost their lives, was cholera-dysentery instead of cholera as first reported. He used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says it succeeded, where a 1 other remedies failed. Not a single case was lost in which it was used. This remedy is the most reliable and most successful medicine known for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery, diarrhoea and bloody flux. Twenty-five and fifty cent bottles for sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

Oregon is one of the most productive States in the Union. Its vast mineral regions contain gold, silver, copper, iron and coal. In immense tracts of grazing lands support thousands of cattle and sheep, and its extensive agricultural regions produce all the cereals in abundance, the yield per acre being, in some instances, the largest in the world. Among the useful and valuable products of the Weibek State may be mentioned Oregon Kidney Tea, which has proved a boon to thousands afflicted with pain in the back and kidney difficulties. It is purely of vegetable composition and never fails. Sold by William Fininger.

The immediate symptoms of Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, are a distressing sense of weight, oppression and fullness in the stomach, heartburn, loss of appetite, foul breath, belching, flatulency, nausea, pains in the shoulders and breast. Dr. Henley's Dandelion Tonic promotes healthy digestion and removes all unhealthy symptoms. Sold by William Fininger.

This is the season of the year when the air is cold and the complexion is soft, white hands and a clear "peachy" complexion can be secured by the frequent application of Dufard's Specific. If rubbed into the skin it leaves no greasy surface. The skin becomes soft. Sold by William Fininger.

Advice to Mothers.
